World's Churches To Decide: Unity Or Greater Cleavages?

Religions Convene In Most Vital Sessions Since Reformation

EDITOR'S NOTE — A meeting starting next Sunday in Evanston, Ill., will determine whether centuries-old divisions among Christian religions can be made smaller or must grow still wider. Here is the first of four articles on the Assembly of the World Council of Churches, which some churchmen have called the most important religious event since the Reformation.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
EVANSTON, Ill. — Most of the world's churches are moving toward a fateful crossroad. Which way they turn can mean either closer ties or sharper gaps in the centuries-old divisions of Christianity. The answer hinges on the Assembly of the World Council of Churches opening here next Sunday. "It will be a critical test," said Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, the council's general secretary. "We shall see which is stronger—the force of unity or the force of division."

The meeting will be the most widely representative Christian gathering ever held on the American continent. In range of subjects, purposes and participation, it may well be the most comprehensive Christian assembly ever called. All things considered, said Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, head of the United Lutheran Church and vice chairman of the council's Central Committee, "It is the most crucial interchurch meeting in Christian history."

Seek To Cement Forces
Fundamental theological questions, buried through the years in the ashes of denominational cleavages and regional aloofness, will be raised in the first such broad attempt to cement Christianity's scattered forces. "The assembly will deal with subjects that go to the very heart of the faith," Dr. Fry said. "It is a daring thing to do."

Met Once Previously
Although the World Council met once previously—at its founding six years ago in Amsterdam—it is digging for the first time into basic and potentially shattering—or consolidating—matters of faith. Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, the council's American secretary, said he believes that the churches, "instead of finding themselves far apart, will discover that they are on common ground to a far greater extent than they have known."

It is such discoveries, on less ticklish theological matters, that started and spurred on the present-day "ecumenical movement"—to rebuild a firm alliance of the world's Christian churches. That huge project, reckoning with centuries in which churches have been breaking up and going their hard, separate ways, had its beginnings at a missionary conference in 1910 at Edinburgh, Scotland. It was dreamed, discussed and designed at succeeding meetings of Christian leaders in Stockholm in 1925, in Lausanne, Switzerland in 1927, at Oxford and Edinburgh in 1937, in 1948 at Amsterdam and culminated in the World Council. The council does not seek to become a world church, or even to arrange mergers, viewing that as the task of individual denominations. But it does seek, said Dr. Visser't Hooft, "to be an instrument of the Holy Spirit for healing our divisions."

Except for the Roman Catholic, nearly every major church will be represented. Although Roman Catholic churchmen have attended some previous meetings of World Council groups, none will be present at Evanston under a ruling by Samuel Cardinal Stritch of the Chicago Archdiocese. There have, however, been articles and studies by Roman Catholic leaders on the assembly's theme. Said an American Catholic publication, The Pilot: "No true Christian at any rate will look with indifference at the hopes that are set in Evanston."

Fulbright Okays Dropping Some Censure Charges

McCarthy Given Right To Cross-Examine Witnesses At Hearing

WASHINGTON — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today he would not object to discarding some accusations against Sen. McCarthy so long as the Senate gets a chance to vote on whether the Wisconsin Republican has shown "disregard for the whole orderly conduct of government."

A six-member Senate committee decided yesterday to give McCarthy the right to cross-examine witnesses in public hearings to begin Aug. 30 on accusations that his conduct has tended to bring the Senate into disrepute and merits formal censure.

Aim At 10 Day Hearing

Members said the special group, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), is aiming at a 10-day hearing and a mid-September report. The Senate might reconvene Oct. 1 to act on such a report.

Watkins said the group, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats, hopes to conduct its hearings much as a court trial, with evidence limited to that which the committee holds is relevant and most hearsay testimony barred.

"The testimony will have to be relevant," Watkins said. "It will have to be given by competent witnesses. We intend to conduct the hearings as a judicial inquiry."

Fulbright, who filed 6 of the 46 overlapping charges against McCarthy, said in an interview he

'White Way' To Give Much Greater Light

The new "white way" lighting soon to be installed along downtown State St. and S. Broadway will provide an estimated five times as much illumination as the present lighting, according to Walter Worman, city electrician.

The concrete bases for the 33 new 31-foot poles are now being constructed and installation will begin with the arrival of the tapered steel poles late next week. According to Worman, the new system will consist of mercury vapor style lights extended over the street by six-foot arms. Each light will have a power consumption of 440 watts, as compared to the 340 watts the present lights consume. The new lights will replace 54 of the current type.

"With the present facilities," Worman stated, "we are losing about 90 per cent of the illumination at the ground because the contour of the globe throws so much of the light into the sky. With the new ones we won't lose any light and they will be color corrected so that colors will look the same under them as they do in daylight."

8 Area Youths To Pay For Railroad Damage

LISBON — Suspended sentences and fines were meted out to eight Salineville youths when they were arraigned before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin here Monday afternoon on charges of theft and damage to property and equipment of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Salineville.

The youths, ranging in age from 10 to 13 years, appeared in court with their parents to answer charges of Detective Sgt. D. K. Leyda of the Pennsylvania Railroad police and Police Chief Cleo Mellott of Salineville.

Judge Tobin sentenced each of the boys to pay a fine of $25 and costs and to serve three days in juvenile detention.

The fines and sentences were suspended, however, on the condition that the youths pay for the damage, and report to Chief Mellott every Saturday. The boys also were ordered to refrain from forming any gangs, or associating with one another, except in the case of brothers.

Gangster Roger Touhy Freed After 20 Years In Penitentiary

CHICAGO — "I'm just looking for peace of mind... No, I'm not thinking of revenge... When you've been in the penitentiary for as long as I have, you forget about revenge."

These were some of the comments yesterday of Roger (the Terrible) Touhy, one of the nation's top gang leaders in the Prohibition era, who had just won his freedom from prison.

The 55-year-old gray haired Touhy, one-time arch gang foe of the late Al Capone, had served more than 20 years in Stateville prison for a kidnapping which Federal Judge John P. Barnes termed a hoax.

Sentenced In 1934

Touhy was sentenced in 1934 to 99 years in prison for the kidnapping in 1933 of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, once internationally known confidence man. He received an addition 199 years for his part in his escape from prison with five other convicts in 1942.

But Judge Barnes ruled that Touhy had no part in the "alleged" kidnapping, which he said was a hoax engineered by Factor to forestall his extradition to England to face prosecution for a confidence game charge.

Factor, starting in 1942, served six years of a 10-year federal sentence for a million dollar whiskey warehouse receipts fraud.

Judge Barnes, in granting Touhy a writ of habeas corpus, said the one-time beer baron's conviction was procured by perjured testimony. He said Circuit Judge Thomas A. Courtney, who was state's attorney at the time of Touhy's kidnapping trial, "Must be held responsible for the actions of chief investigator Daniel A. Gilbert in causing perjured testimony to be presented to the jury that convicted Roger Touhy."

Touhy, tears in his eyes, told reporters he plans to leave Chicago and start a business turning out a fishing tackle on which he

Countian Only Girl At U. S. Rodeo Finals

WASHINGTON — The only girl to make the finals of a nationwide teenage driving contest said today it isn't fair to poke fun at women drivers.

"Some men are good drivers and some aren't. Some women are good drivers and some aren't," said Mary Lou Crum, a 17-year-old bride from East Palestine, Ohio. She will compete against 50 boys for the $1,250 top prize in the contest the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce calls the "rodeo." The final competition starts tomorrow.

She explained her reasoning this way: "How tall you are and how strong you are—they count a lot in who gets to the finals."

Mary Lou said a girl may be just as good a driver as a boy, but: "Girls aren't as strong. It takes more effort for them to turn the wheel. They're not tall."

82½-90% Price Supports Win On 49-44 Vote

Benson Gets Okay To Continue Dairy Props At 75% Of Parity

WASHINGTON — Eisenhower administration lieutenants claimed victories on the two major price support issues and pushed for final Senate action today on a controversial new farm bill.

"We're off to a good start," said Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, referring to these Senate decisions during a session of more than 10 hours yesterday:

1. A 49-44 vote in favor of flexible farm price supports between 82½ and 90 per cent of parity on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts for next year. This is the same compromise voted by the house in what President Eisenhower termed a satisfactory victory. The President had recommended originally flexible supports ranging from 71 to 90 per cent of parity, a legal standard said to give a farm product a fair price in relation to growers' costs.

2. A 49-43 vote that would give Secretary of Agriculture Benson authority to continue price supports on such dairy products as butter and cheese at the reduced level of 75 per cent of parity. This was below the 80 per cent level effective Sept. 1, voted by the House and the 85 per cent recommended 8-7 by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"The dairy provision should be pleasing to President Eisenhower," Aiken said in an interview. "He had expressed very strong opposition to any increase that would have provided millions of dollars of profits to processors."

More than a score of proposed amendments still were pending as the Senate was recalled to continue work on the big bill today but only one was regarded as a major controversy—an administration-opposed move to require that prices of oats, rye, barley and grain sorghums be supported near the level accorded corn.

Any Senate decisions are still subject to a compromise-seeking conference with the House.

One big potential trouble spot for the conferees was avoided by the Senate vote on the major issue — rigid vs. flexible price supports.

Since World War II years, prices of six "basic" crops have been supported at 90 per cent of parity. Over Aiken's objections, the Agriculture Committee had urged an extension. Tobacco will continue to be supported at that level next year, but the administration

How New Tax Laws Effect You

Farmer Can Get Tax Cut By Building Pond, Digging Ditch

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farmer can now get a tax cut by building himself a pond . . . or digging a ditch. This is one of the special effects of the huge new tax revision law. In passing out scores of tax benefits, Congress didn't forget the farmer in this congressional election year.

The law permits a farmer to deduct from his income, on tax returns, many outlays for soil or water conservation. Even at the minimum 20 per cent tax rate, each $100 in new deductions mean a tax cut of $20.

The deductions for that purpose are limited in any one year to 25 per cent of the taxpayer's gross income from farming. Note that if you have income aside from farming, you can't deduct 25 per cent of your total income.

If you spend more than 25 per cent of your farm income for soil or water conservation in any one year, you can carry forward the amount over 25 per cent and deduct it on your return the next year. You can keep on carrying as many years as needed to get your full deduction—but you still can't deduct more than 25 per cent of farm income in any one year.

Soil and water conservation expenses involve moving or treating dirt. They can include such things as leveling, grading, terracing, contour furrowing, construction of diversion channels, drainage ditches, controlling and protecting water-courses, ponds, earthen dams, elimination of brush or planting of windbreaks.

In the past, expenditures for most of these things generally have been added for tax purposes to the original cost of the land. Usually no deduction was allowed for them unless the land was sold. Then they could be counted in figuring whether you made a profit on the sale.

Experts believe half a million farmers will claim new deductions under the new law. They figure the farmers will get tax cuts amounting to 10 million dollars. The revenue loss would be greater, except many farmers pay little or no income tax already.

Aside from his personal expenditures, the law permits a farmer to deduct special assessments by soil and water conservation districts if they are spent for purposes which would be deductible on the farmer's individual return.

A farmer can deduct expenses starting last Jan. 1. But he must decide, in the first year he pays for such things, whether he wants to deduct them or still follow the old law. Once he reports his decision, he can't change his method without permission from the revenue service.

Another tax benefit for farmers in the new law provides that proceeds from sale or exchange of diseased livestock are not taxed if they are reinvested in livestock within one year.

Farmers also pay no tax on proceeds from sale of land necessary to meet acreage limitations under the reclamation laws, provided they invest the proceeds into more land—presumably in another reclamation or irrigation district.

Heed 'Signs Of Life,' State Patrol Urges

"Know your signs of life — and stay alive!"

Cpl. E. W. Mallory, of the Salem state highway patrol, gave this advice today to the people of Salem in referring to the "Signs of Life."

"Signs of life are the traffic signs, signals and pavement markings which remind motorists and pedestrians of the law and warn them of potential dangers on the road ahead," he said.

The name "Signs of life" is appropriate, he explained, because countless lives would be saved if all drivers and walkers learned to recognize these signs and tried to follow their directions with courtesy.

He listed the basic sign shapes as follows:

1. Eight-sided, yellow and black or red and white. This sign means "stop."

2. Diamond, also yellow and black. This sign indicates danger ahead, carries such messages as "school," "narrow bridge," "men working," or the directional symbols describing curves, intersections, side roads, etc.

3. Rectangular, white with black or colored lettering. These tell of speed limits, mark no passing zones, give other regulatory information such as parking rules.

4. Round, yellow and black signs warn of a highway - railroad intersection 300 to 500 feet ahead. These signs call for reduced speed and extra caution, so the driver can make sure no train is coming before he drives across the tracks.

5. Railroad crossbuck marks the intersection of highway and railway.

At the appointed moment, Stokes arose and looked to an assistant, expecting to be handed the crown.

The assistant looked blank. The master of ceremonies, Charles Green, looked embarrassed.

Sorry, said Green, he had left the crown at home.

The general made like he was placing a crown on Miss Venable's brunette locks, proclaimed her queen, and the 10,000 spectators cheered.

Senate To Stick On Atomic Bill

Session To Go On Until Passage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today the Senate will stay in session—no matter how long it takes—to approve a compromise version of President Eisenhower's new atomic energy blueprint.

The two-week senate debate required before the bill was passed originally was the major factor in wrecking congressional leaders' hopes of adjourning July 31. They are aiming now for this Saturday.

The House passed by voice vote late yesterday a compromise version of the bill designed to spur the entrance of private industry into the field of peaceful atomic power, and to permit sharing of such nuclear secrets with U. S. allies.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told newsmen he will not offer any adjournment-recess resolution until after the measure, worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, is passed.

"The bill is going to be passed," he said. "The Senate has voted 2-1 in favor of it and the conference report isn't going to be rejected. I don't know how much talk there will be on it. But we are going to stay here until it is passed."

Opponents who argue that some provisions of the bill would prove the way for monopoly in the atomic power field have said they regard as good the chances that the Senate will vote to send the measure back once again to a Senate-House conference.

FREE — Roger (The Terrible) Touhy, prohibition era gangster, is out of an Illinois prison on $10,000 bond after a federal judge ruled Touhy was wrongfully convicted of kidnapping Jake "The Barber" Factor in 1932.

Touhy originally was sentenced to 99 years for the kidnapping, but a spectacular prison break in 1943 brought him an additional 199 years.

House conference. The idea would be to revise provisions to which they object.

The House took little time yesterday in disposing of the bill, which it originally passed in a 17-hour session on July 30-31 while the Senate was in the midst of a 13-day talkfest.

The major controversy row centers on a provision dealing with patents on privately financed civilian developments in atomic energy. The bill provides for the issuance of exclusive patents, but requires that preference in issuing licenses for atomic manufacturing projects during the first five years be given to concerns that agree to share patents.

Originally, the House voted for normal 17-year renewable patents with no requirement that they be shared. The Senate bill provided for a 10-year period of compulsory patent-sharing.

Convict Tries To Extort Victim Of Burglary

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Maude Christiansen's stolen antiques, which she values at $5,000, are still missing but police are holding a man who, they say, tried to capitalize on her loss.

Mrs. Christiansen said she got a phone call yesterday from a man who said:

"Meet me in the Pacific Electric station at 1 p.m. Wear a red rose so I'll know you. Bring $250 in a manila envelope and I'll tell you where your naitiques are."

Mrs. Christiansen notified police and kept the date. Officers arrested a man who approached her and booked him on suspicion of extortion. They identified him as Joseph A. Swofford, 34, of Portland, Ore., an ex-convict, and quoted him as saying concerning the antiques:

"Now, I didn't take them. Haven't any idea who did. I just thought this might be a good way to pick up a fast $250."

To Meet Quota Of 168

COLUMBIANA — A good response in enlistments of volunteers for service in a ground observer corps in Columbiana is reported by Mrs. Lloyd Wonseller of the organizing committee, as a result of the work of Boy Scouts of Troop 16 of the Methodist Church. Their display in Barrett Cleaners' window and in passing out leaflets the last of the week on the need for ground observers, has increased interest.

Mrs. Wonseller reports 126 volunteers enlisted, nearly 30 following the effort of the Boy Scouts. Forty-two more are needed for the required quota of 168 to man a ground observer post, only two hours a week being required of each individual. More enlistments of women are needed for the two-hour shifts from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Attendants were Mrs. John Crickon of Cleveland, sister of the bride, and Robert Hart of Columbiana. Mrs. William Vachon of Akron, the bride's stepmother, was an out-of-town guest. ## Mechanical Whatzit

One of the prob ems in running a mile in less than four minutes, according to John Landy of Australia whose 3:59.6 mile at Vancouver last weekend was bettered by Roger Bannister's 3:58.8 mile, is to find a pace-setter.

Landy thinks he could while his time to 3:57 flat, if he could find someone fast enough to catch. In his race against Bannister, he himself played the role of "mechanical rabbit," setting the pace for three laps.

If the role could be reversed, with Bannister playing the rabbit and Landy playing the hound, Landy very well might be drawn into a performance that would outdo his fondest expectations. There should be a way to solve this problem for the less-than-four-minute milers who will be sprinting in the footsteps of the first two men to demonstrate how it can be done.

The dog-track solution of a mechanical rabbit falls short. There needs to be a more magnetic attraction. Since running never has been professionalized, a bag of gold is out of the question. But a Hollywood cutie might work, for non-married runners. Or a collection of modern best-sellers on how to pursue happiness would be appropriate. Perhaps happiness, itself, appropriately gilded, could be geared up for the occasion and pursued by the rising generation of milers.

They will never be happy now until they have chopped five seconds off the best times that will be marked up by Bannister and Landy before they hang up their spikes.

Red Psychology In Morocco

An American investment of hundreds of millions of dollars in Strategic Air Force bases in French Morocco is threatened by riots against the established government. Once more France is rearing the whirlwind of a policy of colonialism that remained too rigid too long.

The Communist conspiracy has been fanning the fires of nationalism in Morocco as it did in Indochina. The United States, which constructed air bases in Morocco that would be of the utmost importance in the event of war and are a deterrent to war because of their existence, is caught in the middle again.

It cannot afford to be identified with French resistance to native home rule. Neither can it afford to lose the goodwill of France by supporting native nationalists, especially in view of the probability the nationalists are egged on by the Communist conspiracy.

The conspiracy feeds on the mistakes of non-Communist governments. It knows exactly how to exploit the psychology of discontent with foreign rule. Discontent is its stock in trade, and the ignorance of the discontented masses is its most powerful lever for dislodging authority.

Evidence of growing revolt in Morocco suggests the conspirators are getting down to serious business. The bases in Morocco are key installations of the Strategic Air Force in the

Chicken Home To Roost

Charles M. White closes his "president's letter" in the April issue of Republic Reports with a statement about something that most Republic Steel Corporation employees probably have forgotten.

"Under the New Deal threats," declares Mr. White, who became Republic Steels president in 1945, "the steel industry was forced to expand beyond what seemed sensible limits. Otherwise, the industry was told, the government would go into the steel business itself. More people were hired to operate the new mills. This looked fine for a while but today we are paying the price for the economic wrongs brought about by the New Deal threats."

The New Deal threats began to be heard in 1947 when spokesmen for United Auto Workers (CIO) pointed to steel shortages as the reason the automobile industry could not fill all its backed-up orders for new cars. Congressmen began to rumble about steel's "gray markets," the practice whereby steel brokers turned quick profits on hard-to-get steel because they knew how to get it.

In 1948, New Deal spokesmen began to hint of government intervention to feed more steel into the inflation-stimulated economy by building public plants to compete with private enterprise. This was the political warmup for the inclusion in President Truman's state-of-the-union message in 1949 of a recommendation that the federal government be authorized to build steel plants if private industry aided by government loans failed "to meet our needs."

These were the threats referred to by Mr. White. They were tangible, and they were frightening. Mr. Truman had just been elected in his own right. He had a sizeable majority in Congress. The steel industry did not want to expand itself beyond its own expectations but neither did it want to be socialized. So it expanded. And now it has more capacity than it is going to need, which confronts it with an acute problem of readjustment.

Censure Resolutions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Action Against McCarthy Has No Precedent

There isn't the slightest shred of constitutional authority to back up a resolution of censure on the basis of the charges filed against Sen. McCarthy —and most of the members of the Senate know it.

The Constitution has three provisions that could possibly be invoked to censure or expel members. These read as follows:

"Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members. . . . Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two thirds, expel a member. . . . The senators and representatives. . . shall in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place."

THERE HAVE BEEN 121 cases in which members of the Senate have been involved in contests over elections or over the improper use of money in their campaigns and some have been seated and others have been denied seats. In every instance the question was raised only when the new member presented his credentials for admission.

Thus in the case of Sen. Langer, at present chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, an issue was presented in the 1941 session immediately after his election in 1940 and the majority of a Senate committee recommended that "inasmuch as the charge of 'moral turpitude' had been proven beyond all reasonable doubt, the integrity of the United States be upheld by denying William Langer the right to a senator from North Dakota."

In that case it had been alleged that Langer while governor had received $25,000 from the Great North Railway for stock in some lands in Mexico already expropriated after the railway's taxes had been cut $150,000 a year. The Senate refused to approve the committee report and by a vote of 52 to 30 upheld Langer's right to his seat in the Senate.

THIS CASE involved personal behavior prior to admission to the Senate. Hence it came under the question of proper "qualifications" for membership in the Senate. There have been 16 expulsion cases involving misdemeanors, felonies and treason.

In the only three cases involving actual censure, one involved a physical encounter between Sen. Tillman and Sen. McLaurin, both of South Carolina.

Another case involved the practice of certain senators who carried fire-arms while in the Senate.

The third case involved Sen. Bingham of Connecticut. The resolution of censure exonerated him from personal misbehavior by declaring that what he did was "not the result of corrupt motives."

He was reprimanded for designating as one of his clerks on his committee a man who was an employee of a manufacturers association in his own state interested in the tariff.

It is a blot on the record of the Senate that it adopted that resolution. Dollar-a-year men have been employed in executive agencies in the past and have sat in confidential meetings.

Even in this instance the case was presented to the Senate immediately upon its occurrence and not as an after-thought three years later as is happening now with most of the charges filed against Sen. McCarthy.

Nearly all of the acts charged against Sen. McCarthy are alleged to have occurred prior to the time he was elected to his present term in November 1952 by the people of the State of Wisconsin. He was not questioned as to his "qualification" on these or any other of the same matters before the Senate accepted his credentials in January 1953.

THE EPISODE involving his sale of a book for $10,000 to the Lustron Corp. relating to housing and veterans' affairs, in 1951. The hearings by a Senate committee looking into his personal financial transactions about which he declined to testify because he conspired, occurred before the election of 1952.

The McCarthy speech attacking Gen. Marshall also was made before the junior senator from Wisconsin presented his credentials in 1953.

He is as immune from censure or punishment for what happened in his senatorial term, since expired, as Truman was when he refused early this year to answer questions about Harry Dexter White in response to a subpoena from a House committee.

As for the charges of disreputable handling of two alleged Communists and his resentment over Gen. Zwickler's refusal to cooperate as a witness after failing to prevent the honorable discharge of a Communist from the Army, these open up new questions about how polite committee chairmen have to be with recalcitrant witnesses. These are no standards or rules now.

So far as other charges are concerned that relate to the conduct of a senator as a committee chairman or as speaker in the Senate, there isn't a single instance complained of that hasn't a parallel in the acts of many other senators, Democrats as well as Republicans.

If the senate ever passes a resolution censuring the Wisconsin senator on any of those points, a flood of censure resolutions condemning at least a third of the members of the Senate could be offered on the basis of such an unconstitutional precedent.

The Sixty-Four-Dollar Question

The History Of Ho Chi Minh

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The new figures which emerge in so many places these days upon our consciousness and into history were not born yesterday. To understand them it is necessary to search out their pasts; their ideas as students; their political associations; their training. Only then can we understand who it is with whom we deal.

Sokolsky because the mature man is only an older boy.

For instance, I have never been able to understand Gen. George Marshall's lack of knowledge of Chinese personalities since he was in Tientsin, as the executive officer of the 15th Infantry, from 1924-27 when he was a lieutenant colonel.

This was the period of the union between the Kuomintang and the Communists, leading to the split during Christmas week of 1926-27. These were years of revolution, of civil warfare; of the marching of troops and of protective measures taken by foreign troops, including the 15th Infantry.

THE UNITED STATES sent additional Marines to protect American lives and property under Gen. Smedley Butler and some were stationed in Tientsin and nearby Peking.

The original leader of the Chinese Communists was Chen Tzu-shui who was replaced by Chu Teh and Mao Tze-tung and Li Lih-san.

Surely, Gen. Marshall, when he was in Tientsin, read at least the local newspapers printed in English, which gave full accounts of these events. Chou En-lai, when he was in China in those years, lived in Tientsin.

Similarly, it is astonishing that Ho Chi Minh is made out to be a man of mystery. In those same years, that is between 1924-27, he spent considerable time with the Chinese Communists in Canton and in the drive northward.

His original name was Nguyen Ai Quoc and he is an Annamite. Since boyhood he has been a revolutionist, spending many years abroad in China, England and France.

He actually joined the Communist party in Paris, and was sent to Moscow in 1923 for an indoctrination course which is essential for all Communists who are to become leaders in their own countries.

He was, for a time, in 1924, employed in the Soviet consulate in Boston, a position which is to be explained by the fact that many important Communists are citizens not only of their own countries but of Soviet Russia as well.

MOST OF THE years between 1924 and 1930, he spent in Asia, principally China and Siam, working for the Revolution.

The Vietnam movement, which Ho Chi Minh heads, started as a united front operation designed to bring together all elements in Indochina, conservative, liberal and Communists in an anti-French effort to end colonialism.

It was naturally popular, as the French have always been disliked in Indochina, and received support from many anti-Communist elements.

Few realized, at first, that it was a Communist movement directed by the Third International and trained for it.

With such a history it is difficult to understand why the United States Office of Strategic Services employed Ho Chi Minh as an agent. The OS was designed to establish a super-intelligence agency to provide our government with correct information on all subjects.

How could Ho Chi Minh provide correct information when he was an agent of Soviet Russia, who had worked for the Kremlin in France, the United States, China and Siam and who had been especially prepared to establish and lead the Communist revolution in Indochina?

THE OSS has been accused of having been infiltrated by Communists and the CIA has been accused of retaining too many OSS employees.

Knowland Merits Praise

By RAYMOND MOLEY

LOS ANGELES

Let us stop for a moment and consider the performance of the hardest-working man in Washington. Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland. The presidency, of course, involves more momentous decisions, and some presidents have worked themselves to death. But currently the occupant of the White House need not undertake a fraction of the unremitting toil that falls upon the majority leader. Nor is Knowland deserving merely of the credit mingled with sympathy which goes to a man who bears heavy burdens. He not only does the job but does it well.

To assume the task of a parliamentary leader is a matter involving the margin of majority is real courage. To assume it balance is courage of a high order, such that one death may shift the Taft would seem to most mortals to be foolhardy.

ALL THESE extraordinary conditions have surrounded Knowland since the fatal day when Taft surrendered the reins. At that moment the Republican margin in the Senate was not only small but poised delicately on two or three quiet unreliable Republicans.

There were also some Republican senators who hated McCarthy enough to endanger the unity of the party. There was also McCarthy himself, who hated Communists so much that he, too, was willing to make trouble for his party.

There were in the quarrelsome brood which Knowland was required to lead do-gooders and rugged individualists, internationalists and nationalists.

There were those who would follow our allies into neutralism, and those willing to cast the bloody die in Asia.

A reading of the interminable pages of the Congressional Record reveals how faithfully, forcefully, and at the same time how tactfully Knowland managed to push through a creditable program and leads one to feel nothing but admiration.

The management of the atomic energy filibuster was a triumph. Morse alone would have been a heavy cross to bear. A good third of the Democratic minority was willing to go to any lengths to wreck the Republican program.

It may not be realized by many who are not directly interested, but Knowland has heavy committee work like any other senator.

HE IS CHAIRMAN of the subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations which deals with

It is still not too late to study what the OSS actually did during its short existence and to find the reason why Communists were employed by it. Gen. Mark Clark might go into that.

Particularly, it would be of some interest to know why such a character as Ho Chi Minh, with a revolutionary history since 1910 when he was 18 years old was employed by the United States. Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan may have an explanation and the American people ought to have it.

Instead of fewer congressional investigations, we ought to have more of them because it is essential for the American people to know why, when we thought we had won a war in 1945, we know in 1954 that we lost it. Why?

the enormous budget of the Army Corps of Engineers. This involves an appropriation of $70 million dollars.

Hundreds of big and little projects must be examined, and every care must be taken to prevent waste and extravagance. A reading of the 1,672 pages of the hearings, which is a part of my duty as a journalist, reveals how carefully Knowland attended to his job.

He was compelled also to defend the bill on the floor and accompany it to conference. This in itself would be a full-time job for some senators. But Knowland must also follow the exacting business of the Foreign Relations Committee.

He also must be the constant contact with the White House and interpret the President to the Senate and, what is much more important, interpret the Senate to the President.

Unlike Alben Barkley, who when majority leader said that he carried the flag of the President in the Senate, Knowland conceives himself to be an agent not of the President but of the Senate.

Finally, there are patronage and politics here in California. There are factions in the Republican party here which are not always in perfect harmony with each other.

GOV. KNIGHT has his ideas of how the party should be managed. There is a group devoted to the President, some members of which occasionally overlook the fact that Knowland and Nixon are fast friends. There is the inevitable rivalry between the north and south of the state. This must be compromised.

No person in the position of Sen. Knowland can expect to be spared criticism. There are politicians in England and France who see in him a bar to the appeasement of Red China.

There are captious men of the press in Washington whose life's mission is to assail those vested with power.

There are the extremists in his own party. And there are those peevish constituents who expect Knowland to lay aside all else and get their loans or their jobs or their gratuities from some government agency.

The beam of Knowland's achievement stands out well against the motes found by the critics.

Speaking of styles, the latest thing in pajamas is usually the last one home.

Horses, like sheep, can be trained to follow the leader. We found that out at the race track.

Art And The Races

A New York artist, whose work has been exhibited at some of the best museums, is a horse player, according to newspaper reports and says, "The great attraction of racing is in its scholarly aspects. One must be a student to play them with any success, and he says longshot pickers should not be ridiculed, since almost every great artist in history was at least a 50-to-1 shot at one time or another. We agree, more or less. Certainly picking horses is a work of art, and picking winners calls for genius."

An artist must have a feeling for beauty, and a skinner coming down at a price is certainly beautiful. He must know something about form, and he must have patience.

We like to picture a horse-playing artist's routine. He gets into his smock, arranges his paints, puts his canvas on the easel and TURNS TO THE RACING ENTIRETY. From studio to paddock, from the Academy of Arts to Jamaica, from Coro to Arcaro, from Sargent to Atkinson in the twinkling of an eye!

"Hunch By a Waterpool," "Whistler's Mother at the Mutual Window," "Sunset Over a Wrong Steer," "Across the Board with Picasso," "Bacchus With Weight Off," "Portrait of a Woman Tearing Up a $2 Ticket," "Hunting Scene" (a study of people picking up discarded mutual coupons), and "Study of a Man Overboard."

He thinks perhaps of an Audubon "Pink Flamingoes From Clubhouse Mezzanine" and a Winslow Homer "Yachts at Gulfstream Park." (We can fancy him doing a painting of a Stevens race track restaurant, portraying the mood of people trying to study the bill of fare and the form-sheet at the same time.)

We once tried our hand at art, playing the races at the same time. Our work in both fields was marked by "scratches." Our colors ran faster than our ponies. And on our only big assignment, the panting of a lovely lady's portrait, we got mixed up and put the figure "52" where an eye should have been.

Rocky Graziano is being considered for a part in a Broadway musical. How about Hurricane Jackson in a special drama "The Hurricane Mutiny"?

Supreme Court Justice Bill Douglas, in Darwin, Australia, reports he has lived a week on aborigines' food consisting largely of scrambled turtle eggs, stuffed kangaroo and roast flying fox. He says it is fine, but nevertheless we are betting that he will render a verdict for the first American restaurant man sued on a claim the food wasn't good. We are recalling Justice Douglas and getting him off this diet. No jurist full of turtle eggs, kangaroo cutlets and flying fox chops can be very dependable the high bench.

A bear which grabbed a teen-age boy released him and ran when punched in the nose by the lad. Those bears read the papers.

The members of that prison baseball team who chased a long fly and didn't return have been recaptured. They claim they forgot their sunglasses and couldn't locate the ball.

The American system has produced the man who drives his own de luxe eight-cylinder sedan to the boss' office to protest against his low wages.

Comment on current education: "He's so ignorant you would think he had gone all through the grammar schools."

Uncle Sam has been sued for $250,000 by a group of farmers who claim a jet airplane base ruins their cattle as milk and meat producers. Planes fly so low they skim the milk. And beef cattle are so jittery they give nothing but half-minute steaks.

McCarthy, Cohn Fly On Same Plane, Bring Mob

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Rumors spread rapidly in the West Virginia capital yesterday that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wisc.) and Roy Cohn were to stop over on a flight through Charleston.

After airlines officials confirmed that the names McCarthy and Cohn were on the passenger list, newspaper reporters and television cameramen hurried to the airport.

When the plane landed, they scrambled up the steps and searched out their quarry only to find that another Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Cohn were traveling together—bearing no resemblance to the Wisconsin senator and his associate.

Fire Hydrant Burns

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A fire hydrant caught on fire yesterday. Firemen said a passing pedestrian striking a match on the hydrant ignited natural gas tubes which had seeped into it. After putting out the fire, firemen placed a "No smoking" sign on the water pipe.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

If the workers of the world ever unite, they will certainly be a solid gold proletariat. If they ever pool their money and businesses they will make the old international tycoons, now spending so prolific days in castles off the big German rivers, think the old cartels were with apartments in the back.

Victor Riesel

While the good old U.S.A. is spending a million dollars a year to help Europe's unions, the German labor federation, called the DGB, has an annual income of 45 million dollars a year. This Socialist-controlled labor federation, whose young men aren't over fond of our AFL because "It's too anti-Communist all the time in its propaganda," is not exactly allergic to capitalist enterprise.

The GERMAN UNIONS run seven banks, which have extended credit and have a cash balance and assets of some 50 million dollars. The DGB has real estate—housing developments, with more than 60,000 apartments at the last count, conservatively worth about 200 million dollars.

This German DGB has a motion picture company which I'm told produces "Hollywood type" movies as well as propaganda films. It runs a "high seas" fishing company capitalized at $50,000. It has big stock holdings in the Borgward auto company, which makes cars and trucks. In effect, it controls the cooperative movement, which has textile mills, food processing plants and a score of other businesses.

This national labor federation publishes at least 60 periodicals with a combined circulation of 14,000,000. It also runs cultural forces in this nation can afford.

IT BUYS SO much material and has such vast staffs that it has organized a purchasing company called "GEG," with a capitalization of over 6 million dollars. I want to add that, although some of the DGB national leaders have announced that German labor is now through accepting the wage standard set after the war so Germany could recover, and that there will be a "dynamic" fight for higher wages—some DGB staffers, in the national headquarters here, have asked me to say that the national labor federation's wage policy towards its own staff employees is dismal.

The DGB people are paid worse than comparably skilled specialists and white collar workers receive in outside industry.

FREEDOM AND A HUG—Paul A. Pfeffer, 22, is hugged by his sweet heart, 16-year-old Helen Anderson, after leaving a New York prison on $10,000 bail. Pfeffer served 11 months and a week of a 20-years-to-life term for a murder he didn't commit. Murder-rapist John Roche of New York has confessed to the killing for which Pfeffer was convicted.

The DGB also has a life insurance company with a capital of $60,000. This is about 2,500,000 in Deutsche marks and is therefore bigger than the dollar equivalent indicates to Americans.

The DGB, though it officially is politically neutral, really is the bulwark of the German Socialist party—which is anti-Communist, anti-Russian and fights for civic reform. But it is not in love with the U.S.A. and is an old-line Socialist outfit believing in the liquidation of capitalism as we live it in America.

ALL OF WHICH leads me to report that a $4,000 mark check—about $25,000—issued by one of our governmental agencies, has just been delivered to the International Metal Workers Federation in Switzerland for redistribution to some metal workers unions in Europe. Twenty-five thousand bucks is not much as billions go in our federal agencies. But why are we footing this bill—and for what?

If Harold Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration wants to fight the good fight, fine. But one of the wealthiest sections of the International Metal Workers Federation is its German division—the DGB's National Metal Workers Union. Led by a Max Brenner, it has 1,600,000 members and is considered the most powerful union in the DGB. It has a national take of about a million dollars a month, 12 million a year.

Now, all through Europe you hear the labor people say that it's time the U.S. government stopped interfering, stopped sending its money and advice. Good. The money can come out of the treasury of the wealthy European labor movements—and if Mr. Stassen insists on spending our money, he can use it for housing and feeding of the front line Berliners and refugees from the East Zone.

The European labor people don't need our money. Why do we shove it on them?

At a meeting of the Salem Bird Study Club Friday in the Memorial Building, Roy A. Booth of Damascus discussed habits and identification of more than 30 species of shore birds observed in this locality. Among the more unusual shore birds that have been found here, Mr. Booth stated, are the piping plover, Hudsonian curlew, willet, red breasted knot, long billed dowitcher, Northern and red phalaropes, sanderling, buff breasted sand piper, and Hudsonian and marbled godwits.

Ray Marshall reported sighting two black rails in the Demore swamp near Leetonia. The black rail is an extremely rare species in Ohio.

Hoover Marks 80th Birthday

Ex-President Returns To His Birthplace

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—Former President Hoover returned today to the white clapboard cottage in West Branch where he was born to receive a round of official honors celebrating his 80th birthday and to deliver a major speech on foreign and domestic policies.

West Branch—population 769—bedecked itself with flags and banners, loaded up with fried chicken and potato salad, nailed unfamiliar "one-way street" signs to the trees and light poles, and happily prepared for an expected army of 50,000 visitors.

Hoover's sons, Herbert Jr. and Allan and their families were with him. The delegation of Iowans meeting him included Gov. William S. Beardsley, Dr. James H. Hilton, president of Iowa State College; Virgil M. Hancher, president of the University of Iowa and other officials.

Vice President Nixon, originally scheduled to represent President Eisenhower, telegraphed his regrets last night that he would not be able to attend because of close votes on farm legislation scheduled today.

Wilbur M. Bruckner, representing the Department of Defense, will speak in Nixon's place. Hoover himself is the main speaker.

His prepared address was largely devoted to the 20-year period between the end of his own administration in 1932 and the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower, much of it discussed the foreign policies pursued during those years by the United States—especially with respect to Soviet Russia.

Other major sections set forth Hoover's views on what he called "Socialism" and on his contention that the original pattern of American government—the separation of powers between the three main branches—have suffered dangerous changes.

There will be various perspectives of liberal and conservative churches, of old, dominant churches and young, struggling churches in hostile surroundings, of churches in lands that are free and lands that are not free.

Due to doctrinal differences, all the delegates will not even take part in the same Communion services. But they will pray together, talk together and hope together—to find a truer way.

"Something is going to happen at Evanston this summer," said the Episcopal weekly, The Living Church. "But just what is going to happen is anybody's guess."

"Our hope is anchored in a kingdom that both Zhas come and is coming," said a 32-member council advisory commission, including such famed scholars and theologians as Neibuhr, Eruope's Karl Barth and poet T. S. Eliot.

"If the church is to find complete fulfillment, and if earthly existence is to be saved from meaninglessness," their final report says, "we must look not only to the course of earthly history itself, but beyond it."

The report, on which the Assembly will act, repudiates a theological pessimism which hopes only for the world's end, and it also warns against counting on any worldly Utopia and forgetting "the whole world lies under judgment."

"God through Jesus Christ has entered into the tangled web of human history," the report says. "We see the gracious power of the kingdom already at work among men."

But "even if our works fail and are buried in the rubble of human history, and though our bodies fall

Would-Be Airmen Grounded In Hurry

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Sgt. Marvin T. Hedrick of the Air Force recruiting service, admitted yesterday he can't figure this one out.

He had a group of 20 lads from this area, who had enlisted in the Air Force, so he thought it would be a good idea to have them flown in a group to the Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva, N. Y.

Arrangements were made to have the boys taken to Cincinnati where they were to board a plane to start their tour of duty in "the wild blue yonder." Photographers were to have taken pictures of the mass departure.

Then Sgt. Hedrick reported, he had to call it all off.

The parents of some of the boys objected to them flying.

Gerber To Rebuild Sheppard Murder Room In Courthouse

CLEVELAND (AP)—Workmen have been carting off furniture and other articles from the fashionable lake-front home in suburban Bay Village where Marilyn Sheppard was clubbed to death last July 4.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber, directing the removal, said it was to allow "sections of the room" where the 31-year-old wife of an osteopath was murdered to be reconstructed in court.

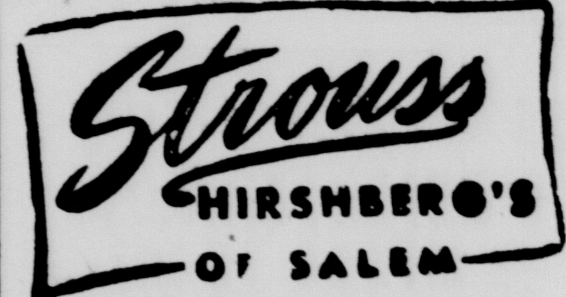

The dead woman's husband, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, who is being held in jail on a first-degree murder charge, has maintained that an intruder inflicted the 27 bone-deep head wounds that killed his wife. He grappled with the "intruder" and sustained head injuries while fighting, Dr. Sheppard has said.

Confiscated by the coroner were the blood-stained mattress on which Mrs. Sheppard's body was found, and the box springs, bedstead and slats of the twin bed. The couch on which Sheppard said he was dozing when he heard his wife scream, also was taken along with his brown jacket found folded on the couch.

Also taken into custody were a braided rug from the bottom of the stairs leading to the bedroom, a dead woman found on the rocking linoleum mat, swivel chairs, a leather lounge chair and a desk lamp from the osteopath's study, and a rocking chair from the bedroom.

Shorts and other clothing of the dead woman found on the rocking chair also were removed.

Demings Moves Back Into First Place With 3-1 Win Over Tool

Butler Grange, Lisbon Winners

Low Scores Mark Softball Contests

In a night of low-scoring Double-A action at Kelley Field, Monday, three teams advanced in the league standings.

Demings and Salem Tool continued their cat-and-mouse game with first place as Demings moved back into the top spot by a half-game after knocking off Tool 3-1 last night.

Butler Grange advanced into a third place tie with the Mullins by clipping Paul and Joe 4-1 and Lisbon, copping its third straight win, is now tied with Paul and Joe for sixth place after upsetting Bliss 5-4.

The best crowd of the season was on hand.

Demings 3, Tool 1

After Salem Tool sat on top of the loop for the first half of the season, Butler Grange and Tool alternated for a few weeks until Demings took over for the first time July 30.

However, four days later, Tool went back on top and stayed there until last night.

John Zines bested Leo Kline in a tight pitchers' battle highlighted by some spectacular defensive work by both sides.

In the fourth inning, Wayne Hahn singled, Steve Cibula tripled and Demps Baisley sent out a sacrifice fly to give Demings a 2-0 lead. Baisley's infield hit scored Dick Boughton in the sixth for the final pumper tally.

Jim Laughlin's single sent home John Baker to account for Tool's only score. Zines gave up only three hits to Tool, two of them by Laughlin.

Saturday night, in the first round of the County Softball Tournament, Tool shut out Demings 3-0.

Grange 4, Paul and Joe 1

Joe Vogelhuber's four-hit performance broke Butler Grange's losing streak. Paul and Joe scored first as John Rottenborn singled in Willie Noguera, but Vogelhuber "shut the door" from there on.

Gale Stewart's triple and Vogelhuber's single highlighted a three-run second. An error led to the final tally. Noguera was the only batter to register two hits in the tilt.

Lisbon 5, Bliss 4

After Lisbon scored three runs in the first two innings, Bliss tied it in the third when Paul Logue, Lisbon hurler, walked in two runs.

Andy Cartwright replaced Logue and was credited with the win. Lisbon moved into a 4-3 lead when Beltempo, who also turned in a fine defensive game, singled home Hank Siefke. Dave Kachner's double and Jack Rance's single knotted the count but Lisbon won the game in the bottom of the seventh on Siefke's triple and Paul Faul's bloop hit to right.

Sam Pridon of Bliss and Siefke each had two hits.

Ironically, Bliss, with two straight wins, is leading the County Softball Tournament. One of its tournament victims was Salem Tool.

The league standings are:

Fate Of A's To Be Decided Today

Fishers Beats Eljer; Sekely Blasts Mullins

One of the finest pitching performances of the season featured Major Little League action at Centennial Park Monday as Fishers moved into undisputed possession of first place with a 2-0 win over Eljer. Sekely blasted Mullins 10-4.

Aaron Swennington hurled a one-hitter for Fishers last night to give his team its claim to first place. Eljer batters didn't hit a ball out of the infield during the game. The only hit was a slow, infield roller in the last frame.

Swennington had previously pitched a no-hitter this season. He struck out 13 men in six innings.

Fishers and Eljer were tied for first place with 5-3 slates but now Fishers, standing at 6-3, takes a full game edge over Eljer's 5-4. Ned Chappell and Gene Sommers combined to pitch a three-hitter in leading Sekely's triumph over Mullins. Sommers came in during the last inning after Mullins had scored four runs, and had the bases loaded with no one out. Sommers then proceeded to retire the side without further damage.

Fella Catlos, Jim Lehwald, and Dick Early shared the pitching for Mullins.

John Hanna and Ned Chappell each had three hits while Charles Hertel recorded two for the winners. Hanna also scored three runs.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Roy Mack gets a chance to put his cards on the table today at a meeting with two wealthy Philadelphia Athletics baseball team.

Harry Sylk, a drug chain executive, joins with financier Albert M. Greenfield in talks with the executive vice-president of the A's. Sylk and Greenfield head a group of some 16 civic leaders seeking to keep the A's franchise from passing to out-of-town interests.

Arnold Johnson, a Chicago businessman, has offered to buy the team and move it to Kansas City. Estimates of Johnson's offer have ranged as high as 4½ million dollars.

Sylk said he didn't believe Johnson had offered that much for the team, adding: "We're prepared to make a fair offer to the Athletics, not a fantastic one." Sylk said he expects a full financial report from Roy at today's meeting.

Roy, his brother and partner, Earle, and their dad, Connie Mack, Sr., are neck-deep in financial troubles. After 54 years of operating the Athletics, the family faces sale of the club or possible bankruptcy. Earle says there isn't a dime in the till and the Macks are done in Philadelphia.

The answer to the A's "stay or move" problem rests with Roy who has an option to buy stock owned by Earle and Connie, Sr. They have said they want to sell their shares. Roy says he wants to retain control of the club or make some deal to stay in baseball.

Sylk originally said if he bought the club, he would want complete control but yesterday indicated that if Roy wants to stay as a minority stockholder and a member of the board of directors, that might be arranged.

Bloombergs Upsets Strattons 11-10

The longest winning streak in the city — 17 consecutive games — was broken Monday when Bloombergs upset Strattons Chevrolet 11-10 in Class B action at Kelley Field.

The winning run was scored in the last of the fifth when Herb Haschen singled, Stan Kataro doubled and Ken Bloor's sacrifice fly sent home the deciding tally.

Haschen led the batting parade with four hits in four trips while Jerry Menichelli added a grand slam homerun in the first inning for Bloombergs. Larry Brunner recorded a pair of safeties for the losers.

Pudge Leininger was the winning pitcher while Bob Spiker took his first setback of the campaign.

Before the tilt, the same two teams played off a July 23 tie game from the 11th inning on and Strattons finally won that contest 18-14 in 13 frames.

Tonight, Sidersingers will play Bloombergs and Strattons and Sidersingers will clash Thursday. Bloombergs and Sidersingers will play again Friday.

College Stars Have Brilliant Pass Attack

CHICAGO (P)—There is growing belief that the College All-Stars might meet with success Friday night against the professional champion Detroit Lions with a passing attack equalling anything ever seen in the last 20 years of the football classic.

A crowd of about 90,000 will pack into the Soldier Field to watch the graduated collegians attempt to grab their first victory over the National Football League champions since 1950 and their seventh in the series. The game will be televised (Mutual) and broadcast (Mutual) nationally starting at 8:30 p. m. EST.

The pros have won 2 times and two games were tied.

The All Stars always have been their best against the pros when their squads were led by great passers. Otto Graham's toss to Elroy Hirsch for a touchdown was the key play in the All-Stars' 16-0 victory over the Los Angeles Rams in 1946. Sammy Baugh's scoring shot to Gaynell Tinsley defeated Green Bay 6-0 in 1937.

Not since some of those days of All-Star prosperity has a squad like the current one been equipped with passers comparable to the pros themselves.

Quarterbacks Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia; Bobby Garrett, Stanford; Cotton Davidson, Baylor; Lamar McHan, Arkansas, and Vince Dooley, Auburn, are the best passers as a group ever to represent the All Stars.

11 Races Scheduled At Canfield Track

Eleven races — 154 laps all with "hard tops" headline the attraction at the Canfield Speedway Wednesday night. There will be at least 60 "hard tops" in the lineup for this program.

Since the final three races were rained out last week, these events — two semi-features and a 25-lap feature — will be first on Wednesday night's card. They will be followed by the regular eight-race program.

All of the top newer division drivers will be gunning for victories in the two 25-lap main events. Featured will be Wally Losch, Youngstown; Ron Libb, Canfield; Bill Powers, Poland; Paul Leach, Boardman; Wayne Ewing, Columbiana, and Bob Price and Dave Shobel, Niles.

Time trials will start at 7 p. m. and the first event at 8:30.

'World' Golf Tourney Gets Underway Today

CHICAGO (P)—International matches, a sort-of attention-holding device bridging the All-American and "World" golf tournaments, begin today at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

The international competition to-day pits eight leading foreign professionals against eight Americans in 18 holes of alternate-shot, match-play foursomes.

DO YOU FEEL SAFE AT HIGH SPEED?
Sure your old car will purr along over the highway at what you may call cruising 50-60-70 miles per hour. But what happens if you hit a rut and a shimmy sets in... or your brakes don't apply evenly? It can be the ditch for you or head on into an oncoming car. Come down and have one of our brake and front end inspections to determine just how good your brakes are... how perfect the front end is.

Soviet Welcomes Clement Attlee

Labor Officials Stop En Route To China

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets readied a formal reception today for former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and seven other Labor party leaders en route to Red China.

Attlee and his party, including left-winger Aneurin Bevan, were due here by plane late this afternoon for a two-day stopover.

The former prime minister, who negotiated with Stalin at the Potsdam conference, was expected to be received by Stalin's successor, Premier Georgi Malenkov. There was some speculation the Soviet premier might also talk with Bevan.

The visitors' schedule here included a Soviet government reception tonight and a British embassy dinner tomorrow night to which Britain's ambassador, Sir William Hayter, invited Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Deputy Minister Andrei Vishinsky and other top men.

Observers in the Soviet capital were certain the Russians would stress their constant theme of peaceful coexistence between the Communist and non-Communist worlds and their desire for increased East-West trade.

The Soviets also were sure to dwell at length on their post-Genoa diplomatic line that more East-West conferences can solve more of the world's problems if only "the obstinacy of the United States can be circumvented."

Attlee's group, in addition to Bevan, includes party Secretary Morgan Phillips, Mine Workers' leader Sam Watson, former National Insurance Minister Edith Summerskill, former Asst. Postmaster General Wilfrid Burke-Harry Earnshaw and Herbert Franklin.

The party will leave here tomorrow night for Peiping. They plan to spend about three weeks in Red China. En route home they will visit Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

Departing from London airport yesterday, Attlee emphasized that the party were not official representatives of Prime Minister Churchill's government. The group said their mission was to improve relations with Red China.

Canfield Area Farm To Be Meeting Site

A twilight meeting for Mahoning County farmers has been arranged by the Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service for Wednesday evening, Aug. 18, J. C. Hedge, Mahoning County Agricultural agent, announces.

The meeting will be at Frank C. Freffinger's Spring Hill Farm, three miles west of Canfield on Route 224, starting at 6:30.

There will be a demonstration on "Building A Farm Pond for Livestock Water Supply," inspection of the dairy herd, sod water ways, land cleared of brush for pasture improvement, meadow pastures, labor saving farm gates (cattle guards), hay and grain drying and forage harvesting equipment, farm garage and machinery storage. Following the farm tour and inspection of equipment, there will be a "bank barn" meeting.

Fred Merrill of the Soil Conservation Service will show pictures of the operations of clearing brush from the pasture field on the farm in preparation for pasture improvement and on farm pond construction. Earl Jones, extension agronomist from Ohio State University, will discuss, "How to Provide an Adequate Forage Supply for Livestock During the Entire Year."

All farmers in the area interested in farm ponds and an adequate year-round forage supply for their livestock are invited.

McCarthy

doesn't want to "bog the committee down" in lengthy hearings.

Many Charges Made

The accusations, made by Fulbright and Senators Flanders (R-Vt) and Morse (Ind-Ore) during Senate debate on Flanders' move to censure McCarthy, cover a wide range of conduct allegedly unbecoming in a senator. They include a number dealing with the Wisconsin senator's controversial Red hunting methods.

Fulbright said he would be satisfied if some of them were consolidated, and he added: "I think the issue is whether McCarthy has shown irresponsibility and heedlessness of established custom in his conduct. The committee should concentrate on taking evidence of his disregard for the whole orderly conduct of government and the Senate should vote on that issue."

Although some committee members have indicated they will vote against considering it, Fulbright said he is unwilling to drop a charge that McCarthy did not give "comparable value" for a $10,000 fee he received from Lustron Corp. for writing a housing pamphlet.

Whether the special committee would delve into the Lustron case or any other specific charge appeared to depend on the recommendations of a corps of three lawyer researchers.

Committee members said the lawyers, to be named by Watkins with daily pay at the rate of $11,800 a year, will be asked to sift the charges to find which were substantial and grounds for censure if proved.

One committee member, declining to be quoted by name, said the group had decided that "quite a number of the charges, even if true, would not be grounds for censure." He declined to single out any.

TELLS OF ATOM PROBLEMS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ancher Nelsen, Rural Electrification Administration chief, says atomic power holds promising possibilities, but many complex technical and economic problems will have to be solved before nuclear power generation will be feasible. Nelsen spoke yesterday to the quarterly meeting of the Ohio Statewide Assn., an organization of rural electrification cooperatives.

OUTSIDE COURT.—Mary Shelley Borgeson of Richmond, Calif., listens skeptically to words from her former boy friend, Percy Williams Herman, a native of San Francisco at Richmond, Va. The California woman testified Herman, charged with stealing a fortune from his elderly bride, Mrs. Doyll Prather Havens of Palm Beach, Fla., made off with $85,000 of her money.

Supports

tration urged a system of flexible props for the other five.

Aiken, administration floor manager for the bill, had been plugging for an 80-90 per cent range. Since the Senate okayed the same 82-90 per cent range the House passed earlier, this will not be at issue in the conference.

Sen. Young (R-ND), spokesman for a bipartisan group of senators which fought vainly for continued rigid price supports, planned one last-ditch fight.

He and Senators Mundt (R-SD), Russell (D-Ga.), and Eastland (D-Miss) offered a new amendment which Young said would require 96 per cent supports on the five basic crops "if the flexible supports fail to get rid of our surpluses and farmers vote for acreage and marketing controls."

Nomination Is Held By Lisbon Sportsmen

LISBON — Nominations were held for the annual election at next month's meeting when the Lisbon Sportsmen's Club met Monday night at Croft Cottage in Willow Grove Park. C. L. (Dutch) Wetzel presided at the meeting.

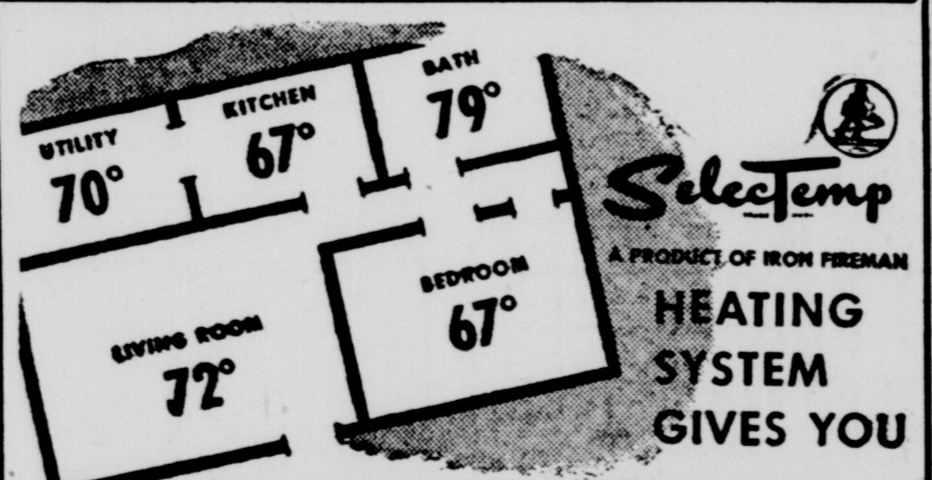

The 18 present also named two members to accompany Rufus Lide, county game protector, who released pheasants this afternoon on farms designated by the group.

BIRNS STARTS TERM

CLEVELAND (AP)—Alex (Shondor) Birns, tagged the city's No. 1 hoodlum by Cleveland police, was taken to a federal penitentiary in Terre Haute, Ind., yesterday to start a three-year prison sentence. Birns has been convicted of income tax evasion. Police say he once was one of Cleveland's leading number racketeers.

A THERMOSTAT IN EVERY ROOM

Many people just can't believe—until they see it in actual operation—how simple and practical the SelectTemp heating system is. A small recessed wall unit in every room (even the bathroom) has its own filter, fan and thermostat. Gives unexcelled comfort. The same low pressure steam that supplies the heat runs the steam turbine-driven fan. No wiring or electricity needed for fans or thermostats. Small flexible copper tubing carries steam to room units. Saves fuel, too. No overheating. You can reduce temperatures in unused rooms and get quick warmth again when you want it. Come in for a demonstration or telephone for free catalog.

Parents of retarded children in the county have been invited to the meeting which is being sponsored by a Kiwanis Club committee. Ben Warner, chairman, said the problems of helping the mentally retarded child will be discussed, along with outlining the program of organizing a council which will promote state and county aid for educating such youngsters.

Woman Who Left Dead Baby Is Sentenced

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 25-year-old former strip dancer who left her dead baby in a hotel room has been sentenced to a five months term in the Warrensville Workhouse.

The mother, Margaret C. Bain, pleaded guilty yesterday to a child abandonment charge and Municipal Judge Edward J. Faighan passed sentence.

A maid found her five-week-old baby, whose body was badly decomposed, last April 20, while cleaning the hotel room Miss Bain had quit more than a week earlier.

She told police she slipped and fell on the child, crushing its head. Cause of death was undetermined by a coroner's jury.

enough, either. They can't see out of the window as well. And they don't let you use pillows in the roдео."

Mary Lou doesn't need a pillow to see through the window and she looks perfectly capable of taking care of herself. She's a pretty five feet five.

Wishes Girl Present

She said she's not scared of challenging the 50 boys, but: "I wish there was at least one more girl here."

Mary Lou didn't even know how to shift gears a year ago. But she enrolled in a driver training course at high school and with the coaching of James Nesbitt, her teacher, trounced all opposition in county and statewide driving tests.

That earned her a $75 war bond and a trip to Washington to face the winners from the other 47 states, Hawaii, Canada and the District of Columbia.

If Mary Lou wins top honors, she plans to use the money logically enough: She'll buy a car.

The former Mary McCown, she won the Columbiana County Roдео then went on to capture the Ohio championship.

Milk Price Increased One Cent A Quart

The price of milk was boosted one cent a quart by Salem dairies today.

Regular milk will sell for 21 cents and homogenized at 22 cents a quart.

The advance in price followed similar action by dairies in neighboring cities.

Dairy spokesmen said the price increase was due to the higher price paid to farmers for fluid milk. Class One fluid milk will sell wholesale at $4.70 per 100 pounds, which is up 45 cents.

Milk prices advanced two cents a quart on July 1.

Girl Recovers Stolen Goods In Busy Store

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A young girl made an on-the-spot recovery of stolen goods here in a crowded downtown store.

The young woman, who asked not to be identified, told police that last week she went swimming.

She went home in her bathing suit when she found her clothes had been taken from a locker.

While shopping she spotted the clothes being worn by a teen-age girl. The girl admitted the theft. The young woman got her clothes back and the youth bureau a large case.
